TO THE PUBLIC.—THE SUBSCRIBER IS pleased to inform the public that his CHOLERA AND DIARRHŒA MEDICINE affords more prompt relief in the various affections of the Bowels, and consequently more satisfaction to all who have used it, than any other Medicine ever offered to the public. The following are among many testimonials of its efficacy:

Dr. R. H. WORTHINGTON—Dear Sir: I take much pleasure in adding my testimony to others in favor of your remedy for Bowel Affections, &c., having so frequently experienced its beneficial results in my own case, as well as in many others to whom I have given it. I carried a bottle of it with me to Baltimore, (and here permit me to say, I would as soon think of traveling without money as without this remedy,) and finding many among my acquaintances there who were suffering with various forms of Bowel Affections, I gave it freely, and in NO INSTANCE did it fail to afford the MOST PROMPT AND DECIDED RELIEF, as it has done here. I congratulate you, and especially the public, on the discovery of a medicine which is better calculated to protect mankind and alleviate suffering, than any other ever brought before the people. L. T. SPIERS.

This is to certify that, some weeks back, I was taken with a violent Diarrhœa, which persisted for eight days. Being some sixty miles from home, I made use of all the remedies I could think of, but without affording any relief. On arriving at home, I was informed that Dr. R. H. Worthington had prepared a remedy for Cholera, &c., and was advised to use it. I did so, and to my astonishment, one single dose gave speedy and permanent relief, since which time I have used it frequently in my family; and in justice to the Doctor say, I consider it much the most valuable Medicine I have used in an experience of twenty years.
F. M. CAPEHART.
Murfreesboro', N. C., Oct. 2, '54.

Dr. WORTHINGTON—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in recommending your Cholera Medicine to the public, and more especially since I have had personal experience and observation of its beneficial effects.
I have tried several remedies put up for Cholera, &c., but have never found such happy results from any as from your invaluable remedy. I have such unbounded confidence in its efficacy, that I am unwilling and will not leave home without a supply with me; and I regard it as one of the most valuable discoveries of the age. Yours, truly,
W. P. BEAMAN.
WINDSOR, N. C., Sept. 19, '54.

Dr. R. H. WORTHINGTON—Dear Sir: I have made some effort, and have succeeded in introducing your Medicine to the public, and I find it is taking very well indeed; and the result is, that I have nearly sold what you sent me. I therefore wish you would send me some more as soon as you can. * * * I have not the slightest doubt but that this Medicine is the very best remedy out for the disease for which it is recommended. I hope you will soon send me a supply, as I would not like to get entirely out of it.
Yours, truly,
GEORGE W. McGLAUGHON.

[From the Murfreesboro' Gazette.]

MESSRS. EDITORS: In looking over the last number of the Gazette, I found a communication from our friend, Mr. L. T. Spiers, recommending Dr. R. H. Worthington's Cholera Mixture to the public, for the cure of Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and other kindred diseases. Having experienced in my own case, the happy effects of its use, as well as other members of my family, I can safely say that I regard it as superior to any remedy we have ever used, in an experience of twenty years. I would, therefore, recommend it to every family, as an invaluable remedy, and every individual to procure a bottle and keep it by them in these times of cholera.
R. R. PARKER.
Murfreesboro', Aug 30, '54.

This is to certify that I have used Dr. R. H. Worthington's Cholera Medicine in my family for the last four or five weeks, in several cases of Bowel Complaint, so common in our vicinity, with invariable success. One of the cases was that of a negro child, some four or five months old, who was so emaciated by the effects of the disease, that its life was nearly despaired of, when my wife happened to think that she would try the Cholera Medicine, and did so with complete success, in less than forty-eight hours. I am thoroughly of opinion that no family should be without so fine a medicine.
Given under my hand, this 3d day of October, '54.
A. W. DARDEN.
MURFREESBORO', N. C.

Dr. R. H. WORTHINGTON: It affords us pleasure to say, that we have used your Cholera Diarrhœa Medicine for the last twelve months, and have found it invariably successful, in relieving speedily the cases in which we have had occasion to use it. We entertain a high appreciation of its value, and have no hesitation in expressing the opinion, that it will prove to be a valuable family medicine.

Patent Door and Gate Spring.

R. W. INMAN, FROM SHEFFIELD, ENGLAND, Manufactory of "Inman's Patent Door and gate Spring," to which was awarded the first premium at the World's Fair in London, 1851, announces that he has constituted Mr. John Creech, merchant of Raleigh, his sole agent for the counties of Wake, New Hanover, Cumberland, Wayne, Johnston and Orange, in the State of North Carolina. For neatness, simplicity, and full performance of all it is intended to do—its exceeding usefulness, its durability and its cheapness, it certainly takes its position in the first rank of modern invention.
We do not intend to puff—a single examination will convince the judgment of its utility. R. W. INMAN.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE.—BEING prevented by my profession from attending properly to agricultural pursuits, I offer for sale my plantation upon the Roanoke and upon Stone House and Pretty creeks, in the counties of Warren and Halifax, containing 998 acres. The tract is situated about seven miles above Gaston, and four miles from the Littleton Depot on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad. It contains about one hundred acres of excellent low grounds. The balance of the land is generally productive, and well adpted to the growth of the usual crops of this section of the State. The overseer's house, negro houses, stables, barns, and other plantation improvements are good. The water is excellent, and the situation of the buildings is believed to be healthy. It is deemed useless to give a more particular description of the property, as it is presumed that no one would purchase without a careful examination. My overseer will show the land to persons who may desire to examine it. In order to allow a man of enterprise an opportunity to pay a considerable portion of the purchase money out of the crops, I am willing to sell the land upon a credit of one and two years. The purchaser, if he thinks proper, can also buy upon reasonable terms, most of my crop of corn, fodder and oats, and also my stock and plantation utensils. Letters upon the subject many be addressed to me at Warrenton, N. C.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

The House met at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Houston presented a memorial to emancipate Abram, a slave; referred to committee on private bills.

Mr. Williams, of Green, presented a memorial praying the passage of a prohibitory liquor law, which on motion was read.

On motion of Mr. Williams it was referred to the committee on Propositions and Grievances.

Mr. G. M. White, from the same committee, could not approve of the report, as there was much difference of opinion among the members of the committee, and though opposed to prohibition he wished the memoralists to be treated with every respect.

The hour having arrived for entering on the election of Solicitor for the fourth district, Mr. Dortch nominated J. W. Lancaster; Mr. Settle nominated Thomas Ruffin; and Mr. Roland nominated A. J. Stedman.

The House voted as follows, for

Mr. Ruffin 36 votes, Mr. Lancaster 31 votes, Mr. Stedman 43 votes. No election.

Mr. Patterson wished to make some remarks on the memorial from Alamance. He was not in favor of a Maine liquor law, but as the right of petition was one of the most sacred privileges of the people, he trusted the memorial would be treated with dignified respect, and moved that the House would lay the report upon the table.

Mr. Mann requested Mr. Patterson to withdraw his motion; and while utterly opposed to coercive measures, and a decided anti-Maine law man, he was in favor of enquiry, and wished to have the memorials upon temperance referred to a joint select committee to thoroughly investigate the subject.

Mr. Shepherd concurred with the two last speakers, and as it was most likely a large number of memorials on the subject of temperence would be presented, he approved of raising a joint select committee, but thought laying the report on the table would not be treating the memorialists with disrespect.

Mr. Barringer moved that the memorial be recommitted to the committee on Propositions and Grievances, as he was opposed to raising joint select committees on every subject.

Mr. Martin moved the report and memorial be laid on the table.

A division being called for the House voted, Ayes 55, Noes 41.

The joint committee on the Solicitor's election, reported for Mr. Ruffin 70; Mr. Stedman 55; Mr. Lancaster 33. No election—report agreed to.

FORENSIC FUN. The N. Orleans Picayune says: "We have heard in our day of legal quibbles, but if a Philadelphia lawyer can beat the following, lately argued to a jury it this city, he can take our hat, aye, our corduroys. The prisoner is on trial for entering a house in the night time with intent to steal. The testimony was clear that he had made an opening sufficiently large to admit the upper part of his body, and through which he protruded himself about half way, and stretching out his arm committed the theft.

Mr. Obfusticate Brief addresses the Jury. "What an outrage," (looking horrified, and with outstretched and trembling arms,) "I repeat, what an outrage upon your intelligence and your common sense is it for the State's Attorney to ask at your hands the conviction of my client on such testimony! The law is against entering a house—and can a man be said to enter a house when only one half of his body is in and the other out? Gentlemen, look to the Divine Law on this point. God commanded Adam and Eve not to eat the apple—i. e. the whole of the apple. And all the commentators agree that if they had only eaten one half, they would not have been expelled from the blooming garden of Eden."

The Jury brought in a verdict of "guilty" as to one half of his body, from the waist up, and "not guilty" as to the other half. The Judge sentenced the guilty half to one year's imprisonment, leaving it to prisoner's option to have the innocent half cut off, or take it along with him.

LETTER FROM DR. TOMPKINS.

JACKSON, Northampton Co., N. C.
November 23, 1854.

To his Excellency, David S. Reid:

SIR: According to the directions of Prof. Emmons, the State Geologist, I have been in this County for several days examining soils and marls, and taking specimens for Analysis, and collecting such practical facts in agriculture as may be interesting to the farmers of the State. My attention was first directed to a deposit of shell marl, upon the land of Capt. Collin Barnes, situated in the north-eastern part of the County, on Kerby's Creek, which is a tributary of the Meherrin River. This deposit of marl has been known to Capt. Barnes many years for he made an application of it to a small field about twenty-five years since, which is I think the first marling that was ever done in this State, and it will not be out of place to state here that this was done at the instance of a gentleman from Petersburg, Va., who was near Capt. Barnes' at that time working a Cotton Seed Oil Factory, and suggested the use of the marl for the reason that he was aware of the great success which had attended the marling of Mr. Edmund Ruffin, of Prince George County, Va. This field was so poor that it would not, before it was marled, produce more than a barrel of corn per acre; but although it has been cultivated twelve years out of the twenty-five since it was marled without any other means of improving it save the resting it every other year—it has averaged this present year four barrels of corn per acre, which is of most excellent quality, very large and well filled. I next visited the farm of Mr. James B. Barnes upon which there is a very valuable deposit of shell marl about a mile from the Meherrin river, which can be obtained at a small expense. After visting these two farms I next went to several others immediately on the Meherrin river, upon all of which I found extensive deposits of blue and red marl, both of which may possess other elements of fertility besides the carbonate of lime, for which the shell marl is considered valuable, besides which there is the phosphate of lime which exists in the heart of the shell. These marls upon the Meherrin have been known to exist for years, and some few successful experiments have been made with them, and still those who have them have made but little use of them. One experiment made by John T. Branch, Esq., upon his farm near the river I deem of importance and worthy of mention. He took possession of his farm about eight years since, at which time he cultivated a certain field of one hundred acres, upon which he made 120 barrels of corn. The second year from this time he cultivated the same field again in corn and made 127 barrels. He then marled thirty five acres of it with the blue marl at the rate of 230 bushels per acre, and last year he cultivated the same field in corn without any other means of improvement and he gathered from it 480 barrels of good corn. This experiment together with that of Capt. Barnes affords still more testimony to the fact that lime is the basis of agricultural improvement. If the soil upon which we propose to use lime be already highly calcareous it would be evident to the practical farmer that its use would only serve as a poison to plants, and if there does not exist much vegetable matter in the soil for its action it should be used only in a small quantity.

I found the blue marl as high up the river as the farm of Joseph M. Rogers, Esq., upon which there is to be found large quantities of muck besides, of the best quality. It is proper to state here that these marls deposits on the Meherrin are to be found principally upon the left or south bank of the river. The lands upon the Meherrin have I think been greatly undervalued heretofore; but if those who own them will avail themselves of the marl and muck which they have in such great abundance, they can soon have their farms to produce the maximum crops of our country. Where land which requires lime can be marled or limed at an expense of ten dollars per acre, I do not hesitate to say that it will pay, and with the marl beds on and near the Meherrin the means of getting shells up the Roanoke and from Norfolk the farmers nearly all over the county of Northampton can make an application of lime to their lands with profit. Those lands of the county situated upon the Roanoke are in their primitive state highly fertile, though such as are called first low grounds are subject to be overflowed by freshets, which of course must detract from their value. The lands called second low grounds are considered to be the most valuable because they are not subject to be overflowed. There is the same fault existing in the farming of this county which is common with the entire eastern part of the State—great imperfection in the drainage of lands which diminishes the crops and prevents the thorough action of fertilizers. Through the kindness of several gentlemen I have been furnished with a variety of specimens of bones and shells taken from marl-pits which will be of advantage in the survey. Among other things which I have obtained is a tooth taken from the marl-pit of John T. Branch, Esq., which weighs one pound and ten ounces, and measures ten inches in circumference. This tooth from appearances belongs to one of that class of animals called mammalia. From the quality of the lands the means for improving them and the advantages for transportation of produce, with a proper degree of energy and intelligence, I can see no reason why the farming interests of Northampton may not compare favorably with any part of the State.

Most respectfully, yours,
J. F. TOMPKINS,
Assistant State Geologist.

THE FARMERS' BANK OF NORTH CAROLINA. We are happy to learn that the reports which have been in circulation in this city for two or three days past unfavorable to the solvency of this institution, are without the slightest foundation, and that the attempt to get up a panic thereby has signally failed—the confidence of the community being re-assured, and the notes of the Bank readily received by our merchants and the community generally as heretofore In times of extreme pressure in money matters such as the country is now working through, it is bad enough for the public to suffer from the effects of unavoidable failures, without forcing them through the aid of panics, and thus producing disasters where none would otherwise have happened. We have seen the effect of one of these panics in the run on Selden, Withers & Co., a banking house of means very far beyond its liabilities; yet persecuted almost to the verge of suspension. They have, it is true, withstood the pressure, but who can estimate the disastrous results to the community from the panic which produced it.

The following Card has come to hand through the Elizabeth City Pioneer:

OFFICE FARMERS' BANK,
Eliz. City, N. C., Nov. 20, 1854.

Reports prejudicial to the solvency of the Farmer's Bank having been circulated abroad, I take occasion to inform the public that there is not the slightest foundation in the rumors. The institution I am happy to state, rests upon a basis which no contingency can shake, and holders of our notes are assured that we are prepared to redeem all outstanding notes. W. W. GRIFFIN, Cash'r.

WOULD RATHER BE IN SLAVERY. In the police court yesterday, a colored man named John Stewart was arraigned on the charge of stealing a quantity of clothing from an elderly colored woman. Stewart plead guilty, and offered in mitigation that he was out of funds and food, and had taken this course to provide himself with the necessaries of life. He stated to the court that a short time since he was a slave in Raleigh, North Carolina, and upon being informed of the kind treatment he would receive from the abolitionists in the North if he could become a free man, he concluded to purchase himself, and did so at a cost of $900. He left his master and came to Ohio. "Since I came here," continued Stewart, "I have been kicked about and abused by all classes of white men. Can't get work from no one; and to borrow money to get bread with, that is out of the question. I wish I were a slave again. I did a great deal better there than I ever did here." Here the defendant took his seat to await the sentence of the court, which was that he be sent to the chain-gang at hard labor for one month, and pay the cost of prosecution. Stewart said he did not mind the hard labor, and was thankful for the prospect of getting something to eat in jail. He declared that as soon as he got out he would go South and become a slave again. Cincinnati Commercial.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE. We present our readers with the whole of the Governor's Message to-day. There are some points which we do not entirely approve—but as a whole, it is a good message—a very good one. Wil. Com.

COLTON'S MAPS AND ATLASES.

The publishing house of J. H. Colton & Co. of New York, is one of the oldest and most extensive in the world, and to the enterprise and intelligence of its proprietors the American public are no doubt largely indebted for the deserved celebrity their geographical literature has obtained both at home and abroad. Their maps and Atlases are certainly of the first order; marked with an accuracy of design and a delicacy of finish unsurpassed by the first publishers of either London or Edinburgh. They are now publishing a large ATLAS, in two volumes, which finished will prove the most complete work of the kind ever issued from the press of this or any other country. We only hope that they may meet with such pecuniary return as will amply repay them for this extravagant outlay of time and money.

The first volume, comprising the "American Atlas," illustrates the Physical and Political Geography of the United States, the British Provinces, Mexico, Central America, the West Indies and South America, and is constructed from official surveys and other authentic sources. It contains separate maps of every State and country of North and South America and the West Indies, engraved in the most elaborate style, and colored so as to distinguish readily the civil and political divisions of each. The work embraces about ninety maps and plans on fifty five sheets in imperial folio, and each map accompanied with a letter press description of the country it may represent; exhibiting in a condensed form, all its great interests, industries and institutions.

The "Atlas of the World" contains all the maps and letter-press comprised in the American Atlas, with the addition of about an equal number of maps and descriptions of the several countries of Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica, and in every respect is got up in the same splendid style, with the same regard to authenticity and correctness.

The descriptive portions of the work are written by Dr. R. S. FISHER, author of the "Book of the World" and other statistical works. These descriptions embrace all the geographical, geological and statistical information incident to the countries to which they refer; also an outline of their institutions, political, religious and intellectual. In the completion of this, as in all other departments of their works, the most recent and authentic materials have been used, and the whole forms a convenient and reliable source of information touching the subjects treated of. Works such as the above have long been demanded by the enlightened portion of the American public. None of the important facts developed by the late explorations and discoveries are to be found in the old Atlases, and hence the necessity for entirely new works, embracing all the results that have been obtained from these sources. These Atlases supply this necessity; and in their maps and descriptions the world, as known at the present time, is represented with faithfulness and accuracy. Every effort has been used by the publishers to furnish to the world works that shall be creditable alike to the genius, learning and mechanical skill of America, and superior in every respect to any like publications of the press either in this country or Europe. Their utility is not limited to any class, but is coextensive with the sphere of civilized humanity.

Mr. A. W. BOSTWICK, agent for all the publications of Messrs. COLTON, & Co, has established himself at the Book-store of Mr. H. D. TURNER, in this City, where he is prepared to receive subscriptions for any and all such publications.

NORTH CAROLINA ELECTION OF TWO UNITED STATES SENATORS. Private letters from Raleigh inform us that at a caucus of the democratic members of the North Carolina legislature, held on Wednesday last, Governor D. S. Reid and Hon. Asa Biggs were nominated for the United States Senate—the first for the term of four years, and the last-named gentleman for the long term of six years. The telegraph has already apprized us of the election of Gov. Reid, Mr. Biggs, no doubt, has likewise been chosen, as the election was to have taken place yesterday.

Governor Reid was a member of both the 28th and 29th Congress. Mr. Biggs was a member of the 29th Congress; and it may not be out of place here to state that the present popular and efficient Secretary of the Navy, Hon. Mr. Dobbin, was also a member of the same Congress. These three distinguished citizens of North Carolina commenced their public career nearly at the same time, and the intimacy which has always subsisted between them, and which had its origin in feelings of personal regard, has since been strengthened by common political objects, attachments, and principles Both the senators elect are gentlemen of large public experience, of sound, practical views, intimately versed with the affairs of their own State, and while possessing the entire confidence, and even affectionate regard, of the democratic party of North Carolina, they also enjoy, in the fullest sense of the expression, the esteem and respect of their political opponents. The elevation of Messrs. Reid and Biggs to seats in the United States Senate is a fitting recompense for unspotted integrity, tried capacity, and strict adherence to principle. During the many changes, trials, difficulties, and temptations which have marked the political history of North Carolina for the last twenty years, both these gentlemen have enjoyed the confidence and won the applause of political friends and associates by their steady and unflinching devotion to the men, measures, and principles of the democratic party, as well as to its organization—that vital principle without which no party can look for efficient action or enduring success.

Mr. Reid's term of office, as governor of North Carolina, expires on the 1st of January next. In case of his resignation—an event not unlikely to take place—he will be succeeded by the Hon. Warren Winslow, the speaker of the Senate.

TAKING THE RIGHT DIRECTION.—A highly respectable and wealthy planter, in Sumter district, S. C., writes, to his factor in Charleston, as follows:—

"I have sent you three wagon loads of cotton, which I wish you to sell as early as possible.

"The accommodations are so bad on the Wilmington and Manchester Railroad, and on the South Carolina Railroad, that the current of trade, instead of going to Charleston, as formerly, is diverted therefrom. A great deal of cotton, from this district, is going to Wilmington, and, from thence, to New York; and the people are laying in their family supplies in Wilmington.

"Unless there are better arrangements entered into, nearly the whole trade from this part of the country will go in that direction, before the year rolls round."

Now, Messieurs. Legislators! to accommodate and properly transact this trade, which is seeking our wharves, give us, we pray you, more Banking Capital. We want a million and a half additional, at least, to keep pace with our necessities. We cannot retain this trade, or enter into successful competition with Charleston for it, unless you afford us the means. Wilmington will not annoy you with many applications, in her behalf, this session; but she has a right to expect, and will insist, that the opportunity for doing the business which she has fairly earned, should be given her—that her Banking facilities should be increased, in a corresponding ratio with the sources of trade which have been opened to her grasp. Wilmington Herald.

A private letter gives some amusing particulars of the gathering of the so-called know-nothings at Cincinnati. The first fact that appears is the presence of a number of whig leaders. Ullman, of New York; Conrad, of Philadelphia; Segar, of Richmond; Rayner, of North Carolina; Davis, of Kentucky, are among the list. No prominent democrat is on the ground. How full of significance is this! The whigs, finding that a number of democrats have been entrapped into these know-nothing lodges, now come forth to take charge of an army already recruited to their hands, to divide the offices among themselves, and to carry out the measure they cannot consummate alone. That such an organization can last is impossible. The moment these whig leaders are shown to be at its head, thousands will abandon it, and return to their former friends and to their old belief. Thus will another evidence be furnished to the world that there is but one enduring and indestructible organization in this country, and that is the democratic party. Union.

MEETING OF PRINTERS. The journeymen printers of New York held a meeting last Saturday night to take into consideration the great depression of trade in that city, but adjourned without taking any decisive measures. It is said that there are several hundred out of employment, and great distress prevails among a portion of the craft.

The Standard.

RALEIGH, SATURDAY, DEC. 2, 1854.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Our readers will find in our paper to-day the proceedings of the two Houses of Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday being Thanksgiving Day, the two Houses adjourned over to Friday.

On Tuesday Mr. Settle introduced into the Commons some Resolutions on the Slavery question. They were laid on the table and ordered to be printed. Some discussion took place on the subject, in which Mr. Settle, Mr. Leach, Mr. Williams of New Hanover, Mr. Steele, Mr. Jordan, and Mr. Barringer participated.

On Tuesday a Comptroller was elected, and on Wednesday a Judge of the Superior Courts. Ineffectual ballotings were also had for a Solicitor of the 4th Judicial Circuit.

The Commissioners on the Revised Statutes have made their Report to the two Houses, and the Statutes, in printed form, have been laid before the members.

PARTY BITTERNESS.

What good can the Raleigh Register expect to effect for the late Whig party by the bitter spirit it is now displaying? Whenever it is hoped the people can be cajoled and influenced to vote for Whig candidates, that paper is loud in its professions of nopartyism; but now, when no popular elections are pending, it discloses its real character by its vindictive opposition to Democracy, and by its coarse abuse of prominent Democrats. Thus far, during this Assembly, the Democrats have evinced a liberal and tolerant spirit. They are not disposed to mortify the feelings of their opponents by any useless display of the power with which they have been invested by the people; what they have done has been performed as a matter of plain duty in accordance with principle; and it will require much more than the Raleigh Register can do or cause to be done, to change them in the course of public policy they have marked out for themselves. The election of Democrats to the United States' Senate was looked for by the people of both parties. No one could reasonably calculate on any other result; and yet, because this has been done, and done promptly, the Register is boiling over with indignation. Its hopes of divisions and discord in the Democratic ranks have been disappointed; and that is one of the secrets of the bitter feeling it displays.

But while this rancor, this spirit of intolerance and venom is thus manifesting itself among portions of the present "Know Nothing" and late Whig party, we take pleasure in saying to our friends at a distance that the Democrats of the Legislature, though largely in the ascendency, and though as firm and as fixed in their organization as any party could be, are nevertheless neither overbearing nor arrogant towards their opponents; nor will a highly excited condition of parties, if brought about during this session, be justly chargeable to them. The leading object of the Democrats is to take up and conclude, at as early a day as possible, the business which they were sent here to do; and in bringing on the various elections, as they have done so soon after the commencement of the session, they have taken an important, and we may add indispensable step towards the accomplishment of this object.

The Register may fret, and vituperate, and manufacture, as it so well knows how, any quantity of "small potato" wit; yet it will produce no other effect than to excite ridicule of its weakness and folly. The days of Whig power in North Carolina are ended. It is well that it is so. The Register may not provoke us to "fight the battle o'er again," by showing how and why it is so; but the fact is palpable. Henceforth, as for the past four years, the State is Democratic. The party bitterness evinced by the Register will not, under the circumstances, add one vote to the Whig cause.

THE LAW OF INTEREST.

Mr. Shepherd, of Cumberland, has introduced into the House of Commons of this State the following bill on the subject of interest:

A BILL.

To repeal the 117th Chap. Rev. Stat., entitled "An Act to restrain the taking of excessive usury."

1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the Revised Statute, Chaper 117, entitled "An act for restraining the taking of excessive usury," be and the same is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That the interest which it may be lawful to receive upon any note, bond, bill of exchange or other loan of money whatsoever—or upon a sale of any goods, chattels, wares and merchandise—shall be six per centum per annum, unless, by a special contract in writing between the parties, a higher or lower rate be fixed.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That in all suits in any of the Courts of this State, or before a justice of the peace, judgment shall be redered for the principal money, and the interest due, according to the rate agreed upon and stipulated: Provided however, that such rate shall and may be reduced to six per centum per annum upon the special plea of the defendant.

HOUSE COMMITTEES.

The following Committees were announced by Mr. Speaker Hill, in the House of Commons, on Monday last:

On Constitutional Reform—Messrs. Bynum, Caldwell, Houston, Lancaster and Turner.

On Corporations—Messrs. Steele, Singeltary, Outlaw, Caldwell, Patterson, Norment, Whitlock, Phillips and Whitaker.

On Military Affairs—Messrs. Dargan, Humphrey, Holland, Bryson and Wright.

On Revised Statutes—Messrs. Shepherd, Dargan, Jordan, Winston, Amis and Dortch.

On Monuments—Messrs. Hill, Johnson and Regan.

On Deaf Dumb and Blind—Messrs. Jordan, Barringer, S. A. Williams, Phillips and Mebane.

ELECTION OF JUDGE. Hon. Samuel J. Person, of Wilmington, was on Wednesday last elected a Judge of the Superior Court by the two Houses of the General Assembly. He had no regular opposition, and his vote was large and flattering. Judge Person, it will be recollected, was recently appointed by the Guvernor and Council, and has been on the Western or Mountain Circuit, where he has given much satisfaction.

ELECTION OF COMPTROLLER. George W. Brooks, Esq., of the County of Person, was on Tuesday last elected Comptroller of State by the two Houses of the General Assembly, for two years from and after the 1st of January next. Mr. Brooks possesses all the qualifications necessary to render him a good officer. He is a sound and consistent Democrat.

IRON FOR THE ATLANTIC ROAD. The last Newbern News says: "We are gratified to state that the portion of Iron for the Atlantic and North Carolina Rail Road, shipped per Schr. J. M. Taylor, arrived this morning and is now being delivered. Hurrah for the Rail Road, and its worthy and efficient President! who is using every exertion to push forward this important enterprise."

THE GREAT QUESTION OF THE DAY.

The slavery question, it was thought by many, was settled by the compromise of 1850. That thought was a mistaken one; or if not, it was settled but for a time. Opposition to the just rights of the slaveholding States has increased rather than diminished; and the masses of the free States are more thoroughly united now than at any former period in their determination to exclude slavery from the territories, to prevent the admission of slaveholding States into the Union, and to repeal or essentially modify the fugitive-slave law. The enemies of the South in the present Congress can effect none of these results, because they are, in the first place, not powerful enough to do so, and because, secondly, any law of the kind referred to would meet the Executive veto; but the next House of Representatives will be under the control of these men, and upon that body will devolve the election of a President in case the people should fail to choose one in 1856. The House may couple with the appropriation bill for the support of government, clauses repealing the fugitive-slave law and the Nebraska act, and the majority may insist to the last extremity upon such a bill. It will then be left with the Senate to decide whether such a bill shall pass, or whether the government shall be arrested in its course; and if the Senate should give way and allow the bill to become a law, the great responsibility of deciding would be thrown upon the President. We believe that both the Senate and the President would be found equal to the momentous crisis; but every one must foresee the calamitous consequences that must flow from such a course on the part of the House. Yet the evil would be augmented if such a body were required to elect a President. Mr. Seward, if he should receive, as it is now likely he will, enough votes to carry his name to the House, would most probably be chosen; or if not, some other candidate, the representative of the freesoilers and abolitionists, would be elected. In that event, with the House and the President committed against the rights of the South, the Senate could not long hold out. It might—it would make a determined and a glorious effort to preserve the Union, but we fear it would fail.

Fortunately for the South, fortunately for the Union of the States and for the best hopes of man, the people of the slaveholding States of all parties are at length perceiving the imperative necessity which exists of uniting in defence of their rights.

It has been suggested that it would be well if the present Legislature of North Carolina would give utterance to the views of the people of the State on this question. Heretofore, division has existed in that body on the question—party feeling has been brought to bear upon it, and thus the voice of the State has been weakened and deprived of the effect it might otherwise have had on the people of the free States. The time for appealing to the sense of justice of the dominant majorities in many of the Northern States has passed by. These majorities are deaf to all such appeals. Resolutions embodying abstract principles in relation to the theory of the federal system and the rights of the States, cannot be productive, it seems to us, of much good; what we should say now, if we speak at all, should be brief, pointed, practical, and uttered with a solemnity befitting the occasion and the great results involved. We do not doubt that a Resolution, or Resolutions of this character could be passed unanimously through both Houses of the General Assembly; and the effect of such action might strengthen the Union and give additional force to the cause of right and justice.

We do not wish to be understood, however, as urging upon our friends any particular course on the subject. We deprecate a renewal of the discussion on slavery among ourselves; if we cannot agree as to things indifferent touching the question, we can all unite in the main in defending our vital interests and rights.

NORTH CAROLINA BANK NOTES. A rumor having reached Petersburg that the Commercial Bank of Wilmington, the Bank of Washington, and the Bank of Wadesborough, N. C., had suspended specie payments, Mr. J. F. Simmons, a gentleman of N. Carolina, contradicts the rumor through the Petersburg Express. He says:—"I am aware that the money market is tight every where, and banks are closing in almost every State, and possibly some of ours may be caught in the great maelstroom, but I don't like to see them put there by Madame Rumor till they are there in fact. I believe all our banks are safe, and they stand upon a firm basis; and I know that there is no ground for supposing otherwise at present. But, suppose the rumor for suspension were true, the holders of the notes, especially of the Wilmington and Wadesborough banks, would do themselves injustic to submit to any loss on them, for the stockholders, in their individual capacity, are responsible, and I am personally acquainted with many of those stockholders, and know them to be men of wealth."

The Brokers of Richmond, we understand, have, within the last two or three days, raised the price of exchange on North Carolina notes to four per cent. a rise occasioned, probably, by the above rumor; and some of our citizens, yesterday, refused to receive them in business transactions. We know not the cause of their depreciation, and shall not ourselves venture any advice to holders on the subject. Our confidence in the solvency of such North Carolina notes as have generally been in circulation amongst us, is still of sufficient strength to enable us to say, that they will be received at par value in payment of dues to our office. The editor of the Express, Petersburg, where these notes circulate very freely, advises all who hold them not to part with them except for their full value.

Richmond Enquirer.

Of course all of us must feel very grateful towards the Enquirer for such "confidence in the solvency of North Carolina notes" as to "enable" it to say that they will still "be received at par value in payment of dues" to that office.

There is a considerable run, just now, upon our Banks for specie; and this demand, we learn, comes to no small extent from speculators in Norfolk, Petersburg and Richmond. The Banks in this State have, we believe, been generally well managed; and we do not doubt they will go through the present financial crisis quite as successfully as the Virginia Banks. There is no good reason for asking in Richmond four per cent. discount on North Carolina notes; and those citizens there who have been refusing them in business transactions, must be either not in want of funds or very timid.

The rumor of the insolvency of the Farmer's Bank, Elizabeth City, turns out to be unfounded. That institution may have met with some reverses, but it has not even suspended specie payments, nor is it at all probable that it will do so.

THANKSGIVING DAY was duly observed in this City. Labor was generally suspended, and Divine service was performed in the various churches.

THE LAST OF THE ROMANS. It turns out that in the Legislative House of Massachusetts—a State which always voted Whig, and from which the Democrats never expected anything—only one Whig is elected, a counterpart to the single Democrat elected. According to the Boston Post, the House stands:

Democrat	1
Whig	1
Republican	1
Know-Nothings	361

THE NEXT UNITED STATES SENATE.

The following gentlemen, all democrats, have either been elected, or will hold over, as members of the next United States Senate:

Names.	States.	Time expires.
Clement C. Clay	Alabama	1859
W. R. Sebastian	Arkansas	1859
Isaac Toncey	Connecticut	1857
John B. Weller	California	1857
James A. Bayard	Delaware	1857
Stephen Mallory	Florida	1857
Alfred Iverson	Georgia	1861
Jesse D. Bright	Indiana	1857
Stephen A. Douglas	Illinois	1859
George W. Jones	Iowa	1859
Hannibal Hamlin	Maine	1857
Stephen Adams	Mississippi	1857
A. G. Brown	Do	1857
Lewis Cass	Michigan	1857
Charles E. Stuart	Do	1859
John R. Thompson	New Jersey	1857
William Wright	Do	1859
George E. Pugh	Ohio	1861
Richard Brodhead	Pennsylvania	1857
Charles P. James	Rhode Island	1857
Phillip Allen	Do	1859
Josiah G. Evans	South Carolina	1859
Thomas G. Rusk	Texas	1857
Samuel Houston	Do	1859
James M. Mason	Virginia	1857
R. M. T. Hunter	Do	1859
Isaac B. Walker	Wisconsin	1857

From the above, it will be seen that twenty-seven democrats have been already elected members of the next Senate. In addition to this, the legislatures of South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, California, and North Carolina, are democratic, and will send eight democrats more from those States, there being two to be chosen from North Carolina. There is some doubt about California—making thirty-four democratic members that can be confidently counted upon. Now, let us look at the opposition. The following whigs and freesoilers have been chosen:

Names.	States.	Time expires.
J. M. Clayton*	Delaware	1859
Robert Tombs*	Georgia	1859

The whigs and abolitionists have eighteen members elect of the Senate. In addition, they have the control of the legislatures in Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, and New York, and may elect six senators in those States, increasing their force in the Senate to twenty-four. The New Hampshire legislature, which will have to elect two senators, is yet to be chosen. The senator from Missouri is doubtful. It will be seen, therefore, that the democrats are sure of a handsome majority in the next Senate. Of the thirty-four democrats certain to be members of the next Senate, all but four—the two from Rhode Island, Walker of Wisconsin, and Houston of Texas—were in favor of the Nebraska bill.—There will be certainly thirty votes against any attempt to disturb it from the democratic side of the House. The whigs we have marked with a star are in favor of the bill—nine in all—which, added to the democrats, make nearly two-thirds of the next Senate opposed to the repeal.

CAPITAL.

"A Know Nothing lodge of colored persons was organized in Elmira, N. Y., last week, being the eighth of that complexion in the State."

The above from the Baltimore Sun of Saturday, is the latest Know Nothing news. The idea is capital. What earthly right have these outside barbarians, Englishmen, Frenchmen, Irishmen, and Scotchmen, to come over here and get fat on the land which of right belongs to the Native American—black? Heavens what an outrage has been perpetrated these 75 or 80 years on the innocent wearers of wool! It must make their black blood boil to think how they have been abused, and swindled out of their fair inheritance, the United States of North America, by these "darned foreigners." Clear the track then, for the free darkies to assert their "inalienable rights" by the side of their white brethren, and good sooth, they have, as a clan, better claims than these same brethren. For nearly fifty years there has been no importation from Africa, and by this time the native blood must be pretty pure. Down then with the paddies, and up with the picaninnies.

Of course, too, they must have a representative in the National Council, and side by with some ex-Honorable or dis-Honorable from Virginia or South Carolina, will sit a thick lipped, curly pated "brother American," greasy and odoriferous.

Would it not be well to have a colored candidate for the Presidency? The abolitionists would all go for him through instinct, and "the brethren" would be bound by their oaths to "go in" or resign. Rejoice then, ye nations, the millenium is at hand, black stock is rising and the land shall be possessed by its legitimate native owners, the distinguished ebony gentlemen from Africa. The bud of Know Nothingism has burst and here's the flower.

Pets. Dem.

That is all very well for "de darkies"—but we beg our cotemporary of the Democrat not to overlook our copper-colored friends, the Cherokee Indians of North Carolina. They are indeed the natives. That blood was here long before the African blood, which seems all at once to be darkening the counsels of Know-Nothingism.

So far as the presiding officers of both Houses are concerned, we cannot but regard the selections as eminently judicious. Mr. Winslow is well known to all our readers as a gentleman of ability and courteous manners; cool, impartial and decided, he will preside over the Senate with dignity and efficiency. Still in the prime of life, yet with all the advantages of an extensive knowledge of men and things, his decisions will, no doubt, be prompt, and, at the same time, cautious and accurate.

With Mr. Hill we have no personal acquaintance, but we know that few men of his age in the State enjoy a higher reputation or a more general popularity. He has been repeatedly a member of the House and is therefore familiar with its rules and business. He is, we are told, of highly popular manners, and can hardly fail to give satisfaction as speaker of the House.

Wilmington Journal.

SEBASTOPOL TO BE TAKEN AT ANY PRICE. A Paris correspondent says: "There is a rumor that about twelve days ago, the Minister of war receivd from General Canrobert a letter, in which he stated that the siege of Sebastopol would be a long affair, and that if the Russians should receive large reinforcements the siege might be suspended, but that he felt certain of the success of an assault. This, however, he said, would be attended such an immense loss of men, that he would not undertake it on his own responsibility, and waited for insfructions. The rumor adds, that a council was held, and an answer immediately returned that Sebastopol was to be taken, coute qui coute."

DESPATCHES RECEIVED. The Washington Star states that it is understood that Don Piatt, Esq. U. S. Secretary of Legation at Paris, brought important despatches from Messrs. Mason and Buchanan, with letters from Mr. Soule, written while in Paris, on his way to Madrid. Mr. P. was yesterday morning closited with the Secretary of State, and afterwards for some time with the Secretary of war.

The Washington Star states that the impression is current in European diplomatic circles of that city that the Spanish government, acting under the prestige or influence of what has of late transpired in France, will certainly refuse again to receive Mr. Soule.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer has these forcible remarks in relation to the Know Nothings and the Abolitionists:

"It is amazing that there should be found at the South any allies of the secret machinations of Know-Nothingism, in view of the glaring fact that, in the recent elections in the non-slave holding states, the Abolitionists and Know-Nothings, with rare exceptions, co-operated. In Massachusetts, Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania, these two disorganizing and constitution-breaking factions supported the same tickets—tickets formed with reference to the overthrow of slavery; and whose principles, if carried out into practice by the action of the Federal Government, will crush the South and instantly dissolve the Union—not a single member of Congress is elected by a combination of Northern Whigs (or Abolitionists) and Known-Nothings, who is not in favor of the repeal of the Nebraska bill, the restoration of the Missouri anti-slavery restriction, the abrogation of the fugitive slave law; and who will not go to the death against the acquisition of Cuba. Even in New York, where the Know-Nothings made a separate nomination for Governor, we have the word of the New York Tribune that a large portion of them repudiated the nomination of the Ullman convention and vowed their allegiance to Clarke, the Abolition, Whig and Maine liquor law candidate. In Massachusetts, Gardner, the triumphant gubernatorial candidate of the Know-Nothings, openly boasts that he has always been an advocate for the repeal or modification of the fugitive slave law, that he was in favor of the fusion of the Whigs and Free-soilers, that he never did and never will vote for a man who is or has been in favor of the fugitive slave law, and that in June last he signed a memorial to Congress for its unconditional repeal."

STILL IN DOUBT. Although the election in New York took place two weeks ago, the question still is asked, "Who is the governor?" Up to Saturday evening we did think that Governor Seymour was re-elected, and we gave expression to the thought in much more positive language than we are in the habit of employing; but, since that time, we have received information in regard to the reported action of the county canvassers which savors marvellously of an intention to cipher Gov. S. out of his election. It is said that a large number of ballots—sufficiently large to place Clark ahead—have been rejected by the county canvassers because they read "H. Seymour" in the place of "Horatio Seymour." It remains to be seen whether the State canvassers will or will not adopt this contemptible quibble for their rule of action. If it should be adopted, an appeal no doubt will be taken to a higher and more responsible tribunal.

The aggregate vote of the State has proved to be heavier than was generally anticipated.

According to the Albany Argus, the official returns from all the counties, except Schuyler and Putnam, foot up as follows on governor:

Clark	154,869
Seymour	154,592
Ullman	121,050
Bronson	33,500
Total	464,101

The two counties not included will probably swell the aggregate to 468,000, or thereabouts.

Washington Union.

WON'T DO IT. The Wilmington Journal states positively that Mr. Ashe, who was recently elected President of the Wilmington and Raleigh Rail Road Co., will not resign his seat in Congress. Mr. Ashe's position in this whole matter, including the circumstances of his election, is anything but an enviable one.

Raleigh Register.

The above is as precious a piece of demagogism as any one could desire to see. Does any person realy wish or expect the district to be excited from one end to other by a contest for a single short term, the member elect for which would hardly have a chance to become acquainted with the routine of business before the 4th of March would cut him short. He could really be of no use whatever. Then the whole trouble and excitement would have to be submitted to in August next. Such a narrow and contracted spirit as dictated this paragraph from the Register, as well as similar affairs we have noticed in some one or two other sheets, is "anything but an enviable one." Plain speaking people would call it a contemptable one, and plain speaking people would be right.

How much would be the cost in actual time and money of the special election in this district, which Mr. Ashe's resignation would occasion, in order that a new man might go for six or eight weeks at the close of this Congress.

Wil. Journal.

"ION," the generally well informed Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, thus speculates concering the President's forthcoming message:

"The President's forthcoming Message is said to be prepared, and awaits only such additional views as new advices may suggest in regard to our foreign relations.

An American policy in regard to our intercourse with foreign nations will probably be disclosed and insisted upon, in this message. This policy is no doubt identical with that which the recent Congress of American Diplomatists at Ostend settled and adopted. It points at the means of maintaining our career of territorial expansion, consistently with the preservation of present amity with European powers.

European Cabinets are to be made to understand that our commercial and political necessities render unavoidable the acquisition of Cuba and the Sandwich Islands, and that it is entirely consistent with our peaceful intentions in regard to all the world. The message will undoubtedly recommend hostile measures in regard to Spain. The "provisional means" asked for in the two messages relative to the Black Warrior affair cannot again be proposed, after a final refusal by Spain to make the required reparation for that alleged outrage. The President must, for the sake of consistency, take a warlike tone on this subject, but it is not probable that congress will not be more disposed than heretofore to second it by the adoption of any hostile measures."

Some descendent of Solomon has wisely remarked that those who go to law for damages are sure to get them.

Later from Havana.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The steamer Empire City, from Havana, with dates to the 23d, arrived here today. Reports of risings in various parts of the Island were quite plentiful, but it is believed all are without foundation. It was said that a court-martial at Barracoa had condemned nineteen recently returned Creoles to be shot, and that the sentence was carried into execution.

The gay season had commenced at Havana with brilliant festivities.

A company of wharf negroes drew a prize of $100,000 in a lottery on the 18th.

Schools are to be established at Havana, in which all the arts and Sciences are to be taught gratis.

New rules have been issued for the suppression of the slave trade.

Arraignment of Rev. Theodore Parker.

BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The REV. THEODORE PARKER was arranged before the United States Circuit Court this morning, on the charge of inciting a riot, and aiding in an attempt to rescue Anthony Burns. He gave bail in the sum of $1500 to answer at the March term.

Steamboat Collision.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 29. The large and magnificent steamers Pacific and Grand Tower, came into collision near Memphis, Tenn., on Monday last. Both sunk immediately, and the passengers were rescued with difficulty.

Northern Markets.

BALTIMORE. Flour and grain unchanged.

NEW YORK. Flour declined. Southern easier at $8 81 a 9. Wheat dull with a declining tendency. Corn declined two cents. Offerings generally very small.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27. The weather is cool here, with heavy frosts. The deaths during the week number 175, including only 16 from fever.

HOME AND FRIENDS.

Oh there is a power to make each hour
As sweet as heaven designed it:
Nor need we roam to bring it home,
Though few there be who find it.

We seek too high for things close by,
And lose what nature found us;
For life hath here no light so dear
As home and friends around us.

We oft destroy the present joy,
For future hopes and praise them,
Whilst flowers as sweet bloom at our feet,
If we'd but stoop to raise them!

For things afar still sweetest are,
When youth's bright spell hath bound us:
But soon we're taught that earth has naught
Like home and friends around us.

The friends that speed in time of need,
When hope's last reed is shaken,
To show you still, that, come what will,
We are not quite forsaken.

Though all were night, if but the light
From friendship's altar crowned us,
'Twould prove that bliss of earth was this,
Our home and friends around us!

VALUABLE PLANTATION FOR SALE.—The valuable plantation known as Hammock Point is offered for sale. Any person desirous of, at once, making a profitable investment, and living at one of the pleasantest places in Eastern Carolina is offered an opportunity of so doing.

Hammock Point consists of 800 acres of land, lying in Onslow county, near, and a little below, the mouth of Whitock river. 400 of the above number of acres comprise the cleared land, and are of an exceedingly fine quality. The remaining half is covered with valuable timber, and also contains one crop of turpentine boxes. The plantation is so situated that it might easily be converted into two, should more than one person enter into the purchase; two large fields are divided conveniently by a line of wood, both possessing nearly equal natural advantages. The plantation as its name would seem to import, is something in shape like a peninsula. Three fourths of it are encompassed by water; the remaining fourth is marked by a smooth road leading to the back country. It is obvious from what has been said that but little fencing will be requisite to protect the land from the encroachments of stock. Extending from the shore on every water-side for a short distance into the fields are many rich bottoms, from which most abundant supplies of mud already composted with shell and phosphatic deposite, may be easily obtained. Nor is there exageration in asserting that its manuring resources and facilities are equal, and probably superior, to any in the State. These consist in, besides what has just been named, immense beds of Oysters bare at low water, yet alive, containing thousands upon thousands or bushels; exhaustless quantities of fresh and decayed sea-weed and marsh grass, and an abundance of fish-offal from the surrounding fisheries. These bottoms, too, hold springs of clear, sweet water, and from their various situations are admirably adapted for the refreshment of man and horse in the cropping season. Along the north-east shore—a quarter of a mile of gravel pavement—are two valuable fisheries. The eastern and western shores merge into marshes so well adapted to the raising of stock, that no other food is required for feeding. The southern shore is a continuous landing, for here the channel, 12 feet deep, hugs the land—the same depth being continued to Bogue Bar, which has 17 feet water on it. From all these shores backward, on all sides but one, the land imperceptibly rises to the elevation of 20 feet. This might lead one to suppose that the land would wash, but such is not the case. On this central healthy elevation stands a fine dwelling surrounded by a grove. Here, too, are placed the out-houses, not the least conspicious of which is a large commodious barn, contiguous to a new and fine set of stables. From the dwelling may be had an uninterrupted view of the finest eastern scenery. A mile and a half to the north-east may be seen the picturesque and thriving village of Swansboro'; the smoke rising from its distilleries and steam mills; its wharves graced by merchantmen, lighters and flats. Glancing beyond the town the eye wearies with travelling up the river, and rests with pleasure on the neat white residences which dot the line of woods. Sweeping the eye southwardly it encounters the entrance of the sound extending to Beaufort—distant, a sail of four hours. A man may breakfast at home and dine at Beaufort. Yet more southwardly its vision is arrested by the breakers two miles off framing in the inlet. Beyond is the vast expanse of the ocean, occasionally broken by a steamship or some merchantman bound South or North. A long line of banks terminates in another view of the ocean, Bear Inlet. But if the eye is daily permitted to enjoy this scenic repast, there are as many luxuries equally rare for the enjoyment of the palate, and decidedly more substantial. Around the shores may be procured, whenever desired, fine oysters, fish, clams in abundance; and during the season the shores are infested with ducks and gulls. Every thing pertaining to a rich and happy residence is ready to hand, even fishing canoes, boat houses and pleasure boats. The prospect is open on every quarter but the North. This is closed in by sloping hills covered with trees and dotted with houses. Here are to be had good eating, good water, good sleeping and good company. Close by, too, an Academy is in the progress of construction and here are good teachers.
